

Working with children check (WWCC)

People working or volunteering with children in South Australia must, by law, have a working with children check as from 1 July 2019. A DHS/DCSI child-related check will be recognised as a working with children check until it expires.

All information regarding the WWCC can be found at <https://screening.sa.gov.au/home>

From the website:

Who needs a working with children check from 1 July 2019?

People need a working with children check if they are in a 'prescribed position'. This means people who:

are in paid or volunteering roles where it is reasonably foreseeable that they will work with children run or manage a business where the employees or volunteers work with children are employed to provide preschool, primary or secondary education to a child.

A working with children check assesses whether a potential employee or volunteer could pose a risk to the safety of children, based on criminal history and child protection information

If you have a WWCC or a current DHS/DCSI child-related check please forward this to secretary@easternmavericks.com.au

If you do not have a WWCC please follow the instructions at this link to obtain your WWCC <https://screening.sa.gov.au/applications/application-information-for-individuals>

Once you have obtained your WWCC please forward this to secretary@easternmavericks.com.au

There is no cost to you to get your WWCC
